

Protective Clothing

All workers are issued the appropriate protective clothing as required by the label. Supervisors will ensure that the protective clothing is used and kept stored in a clean and organized fashion. Employees who do not use suitable protective clothing when required may face disciplinary action.

INSTRUCTION

Protective clothing is required for all chemicals as stated on the Chemical's label. It typically includes gloves, pants, jacket, boots and eyeglasses or goggles. This clothing must be cleaned after every use and stored separately from Plant Protection Products (PPP) aka pesticides, chemicals.
