

Worker Food Storage and Dining

Workers are allowed to store their food in their own vehicles. Workers are also allowed to eat in their vehicles, on the orchard road or in the designated dining area. Workers are not allowed to eat in the fields there they are working.

AUDIT ADVICE

Setting up a designated dining area with several picnic tables or a mobile dining area can be a good option. Not all workers will use it but it makes it very clear that this is the appropriate place for people to eat. Also, if you have caterers, taco trucks, coming to the orchard you will need to have a very clear set of rules for where they can and cannot park. They should be responsible for their own waste. Remember it's your orchard; you set the rules.
