

Unproductive Sites

Unproductive sites will be left in a native or natural state. If they have been used for agricultural purposes in the past we will make every reasonable effort to return them to a native state. Our goal is to conserve areas for the encouragement of natural flora and fauna.