

Chemical Review Procedure

All product shipped to Columbia Fruit is accompanied by a copy of the spray records for review in their chemical review program. A summary of the program is as follows:

“At Columbia Fruit Packers we make it a high priority to meet the MRL requirements of each customer. In order to ensure the success of our sales and exports we review every record for every grower that we pack. We then match the grower with a market by fruit quality and MRL compatibility. This effort has prevented us from having any rejections in any markets due to MRL issues.”

This procedure ensures that fruit treated with chemicals banned in another country does not end up shipped to that country.
